Jesus's life from birth to resurrection to death has impacted my whole life, especially in my salvation. Many know about Christ's birth and life and how God ordained him to be perfect. I am very thankful that he was chosen the perfect sacrifice because he is a perfect example to me. Although many (even the devil) tried to deter and tempt him, Jesus did not yield and showed me that I do not have to give in either. Through him I have peace and freedom from sin and power over the devil through God. I am always in awe at how Christ would go through physical/emotional abuse for someone who was so ungrateful and undeserving and that it was purely out of his love. Therefore, I want to continue to stay humble, uphold this experience by submitting myself unto God and to allow him to guide my life. It is truly an assurance to know that I can go to him concerning anything because he minds me. If it were not for Christ and his life I would not be able to live freely but I don't want to be the only benefactor. I desire that through my life I can be a witness to others so that they can know how it is to be changed.
